Leaders Speak.....

"To become a true global player, the industry needs to become cost competitive and leader in technology with distinct process development capabilities and develop market and customer service competencies that go beyond mere production and distribution of products to become solution and service providers."

Mr Bijoy Chatterjee

Secretary, Dept of Chemicals and Petrochemicals, Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers, Government of India.

"With regards to clinical trials, the cost factor in India is almost one-tenth of the cost overseas. It is possible to do clinical trials in the country which starts from molecule to market for about US$100 unlike US$1000 elsewhere."

Dr. Anji Reddy,

Chairman, Conference Advisory Board,
Pharma + Biotech World Expo 2005 and Chairman,
Dr. Reddy's Laboratories.

"The Indian Pharma Industry is making waves in exports of generics or APIs, contract manufacturing and R & D. Now the challenge has shifted from using IP to creating IP. We need to expand our R & D investment substantially to secure our rightful place in the global arena.

Mr. Ajay Piramal

Chairman, National Advisory Board, Pharma + Biotech World Expo 2007 and Chairman, Nicholas Piramal India Ltd.

"US may be the "land of opportunity", India is the "land of ideas". And while the past has seen Indian ideas and minds migrating to the US, today there is a "reverse brain drain" as more Indians return to India. That is why, India offer the highest intellectual capital per dollar, a term coined by Jack Welch, the legendary CEO of General Electric."

Dr. R. A. Mashelkar

Chairman, National Advisory Board – Innovation, Pharma + Biotech World Expo 2007 and Director General, Council of Scientific & Industry Research.

"The global meltdown and the drive to cut cost by companies will mean more opportunity for CRAMS. IP plays an important role in CRAMS off shoring decisions by global companies. It is in India's interest that one must seek this global opportunity in pharmaceuticals, emerging as a choice destination for world's leading companies to conduct research and manufacture in India, for the world at large."

Mr. Ranga Iyer

Managing Director, Wyeth Ltd.
